

PHYLLIS LOVETT
- LEAD INSTRUCTIONAL LEADERSHIP
DIRECTOR

Education:

- LaGrange College (BA, 1978)
- LaGrange College (MA, 1979)
- Oral Roberts University (Ed.D.,2006)

Phyllis Lovett has worked in public education for 34 years and joined the Tulsa Public Schools team in YEAR. She currently serves as lead instructional leadership director and works closely with eleven elementary school leaders and their teams. Phyllis had held a number of key roles in both district and school administration at Tulsa Public Schools, serving as associate superintendent for elementary schools and as executive assistant to the associate superintendent for elementary schools.

Phyllis served as principal of Gilcrease Middle School for two years, and as principal of Penn Elementary School for 15 years. During her tenure at Penn, she and her team transformed the school from one of the lowest performing elementary schools in the state to one of the highest performing and earned the Oklahoma Academic Achievement Award in 2008. Phyllis has also served as an adjunct professor for the School of Education for Northeastern State University's Broken Arrow campus and Langston University's Tulsa campus.

Phyllis enjoys traveling and working out at the gym.

SERVING:

- Academy Central
- Columbus
- Cooper
- Lanier
- Lee
- Lewis and Clark
- Mark Twain
- Patrick Henry
- Peary
- Project ACCEPT
- Westside Elementary