High school photography students are invited to attend a special weekend Kravis Spring Arts session led by David Halpern, March 2 & 3 from Booker T. Washington. On Friday students will travel by bus from Washington High School to Gilcrease art museum to view David Halpern's exhibit, followed by a photo session in downtown focused on architectural features.

On Saturday students will spend the day at the University of Tulsa's Philips Hall from 9:00 to 3:30 utilizing the photography studio to creating portfolio pieces from their photographs. Students are invited to bring their cameras or utilize the cameras built into their phones.

David Halpern (March 2/3) is a photographer, teacher and author who divides his time between Tulsa and Santa Fe, New Mexico. His work has been exhibited at museums and galleries across the country. David is perhaps best known for his two award winning editions of the book, Tulsa Art Deco.
