Another exciting thing we have here at McLain High School is a partnership with Education for Scholars's Plant-a-Seed Gardening program. Our scholars have resurrected the old greenhouse that was in disrepair, and have built planter boxes to hold a variety of delicious vegetables. This hands on program gives students a wide range of skills and knowledge, including teamwork, construction, planning, and nutrition. #TPStakeover #McLain

Hey from McLain again! There's no way I could #TPStakeover and not share what my very own is up to! My Digital Editing & Photography class have been learning all about using manual in their classroom DSLR cameras. We recently "Staple Cities" to practice forced perspective, and this week we are painting with light, lasers, light wands, and string lights into paintbrushes! #McLain

Mayo's first ever Tulsa Changemakers cohort has been busy! They have chosen food insecurity as their focus and have met with many different individuals and organizations in our community including the Terrance Crutcher Foundation, the Food Bank of Oklahoma, the Tulsa Day Center, and Food on the Move. #TPStakeover #mayomagic

We start every art class with our art mantra. "I make messes. I make mistakes. But deep inside, I have what it takes. I am an artist!" These second graders are always extremely enthusiastic and eager to get started. #TPStakeover #mayomagic
